What is Real Estate Withholding?

What is Real Estate Withholding?

Real estate withholding is:

- A prepayment of estimated income tax due from the gain on a sale of California real estate. If the amount withheld is more than the income tax liability, we will refund the difference when you file a tax return after the end of the year.
- Not an additional tax on the sale of real estate.

Why Do We Withhold?

We withhold to:

- Ensure payment of Income tax owed on the taxable gain from the sale.
- Reduce the likelihood of penalties charged to the seller for underpayment of estimated tax.

Withholding Agent Instructions

- Unless the sale qualifies for an automatic exclusion (sales price is $100,000 or less, the transferor is a bank acting as a trustee other than a trustee of a deed of trust or the property is being foreclosed upon), provide Forms 593-C and 593-L with instructions to each seller as soon as escrow opens. We update our forms and instructions annually, so please make certain you use the correct form. The year on the form should be the year that escrow will close.
- Instruct the seller to complete and sign Form 593-C, then return it to you by the close of escrow. Incomplete or improperly completed forms may not exempt the seller from withholding.
  - If the seller checked “YES” to any item in Part II, the seller is exempt from withholding. You are relieved of the real estate withholding requirements if you rely in good faith on the completed and signed form, certifying an exemption from withholding.
  - If the seller checked “YES” to any item in Part III, the seller may qualify for a partial or complete withholding exemption. Read the specific line instructions to determine the amount to withhold and any additional requirements.
  - If the seller checked “NO” to all of the items in Part II and Part III, you must withhold 3 1/3 percent of the total sales price.
  - If the seller does not return the completed Form 593-C by the close of escrow, you must withhold 3 1/3 percent of the total sales price.
- If you must withhold, complete Form 593-B, Real Estate Withholding Tax Statement, for each seller that was withheld upon. Give two copies of Form 593-B to the seller. We suggest that, after the close of the month, you attach one copy of all of the Fonns 593-B completed during the month to Form 593, Real Estate Withholding Remittance Statement, and mail it to us with the total amount withheld for all transactions that closed during the month. However, you have the option to send in one payment and one Form 593 with the related Forms 593-B for each escrow instead of sending one total payment for all escrows that closed during the month. Regardless of whether you send one payment for the month or one payment for each escrow, Form 593 and 593-B, and the withholding payment are due to the Franchise Tax Board by the 20th day of the month following the month that escrow closed.
- Do not send Forms 593-C or 593-L to the Franchise Tax Board. You should retain Form 593-C for five years following the close of the transaction. You must furnish the form to the Franchise Tax Board upon request. Usually the seller will retain Form 593-L. However, if the seller gives your Form 593-L, you should also retain it for five years.
Part I – Seller’s or Transferor

Name
SSN or ITIN

Spouse’s/RDP’s name (if jointly owned)
Spouse’s/RDP’s SSN or ITIN (if jointly owned)

Address (apt./ste., room, PO Box, or PMB no.)

City (If you have a foreign address, see instructions.)
State
Zip Code
Ownership percentage %

Property address (if no street address, provide parcel number and county)

To determine whether you qualify for a full or partial withholding exemption, check all boxes that apply to the property being sold or transferred. (See Instructions)

Part II – Certifications which fully exempt the sale from withholding:

1. ☐ The property qualifies as the seller’s or transferor’s (or decedent’s, if sold by the decedent’s estate or trust) principal residence within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 121.
2. ☐ The seller or transferor (or decedent, if sold by the decedent’s estate or trust) last used the property as the seller’s or transferor’s (decedent’s) principal residence within the meaning of IRC Section 121 without regard to the two-year time period.
3. ☐ The seller or transferor has a loss or zero gain for California income tax purposes on this sale. To check this box you must complete Form 593-E, Real Estate Withholding-Computation of Estimated Gain or Loss, and have a loss or zero gain on line 16.
4. ☐ The property is being compulsorily or involuntarily converted and the seller or transferor intends to acquire property that is similar or related in service or use to qualify for nonrecognition of gain for California income tax purposes under IRC Section 1033.
5. ☐ The transfer qualifies for nonrecognition treatment under IRC Section 351 (transfer to a corporation controlled by the transferor) or IRC Section 721 (contribution to a partnership in exchange for a partnership interest).
6. ☐ The seller or transferor is a corporation (or a limited liability company (LLC) classified as a corporation for federal and California income tax purposes) that is either qualified through the California Secretary of State (SOS) or has a permanent place of business in California.
7. ☐ The seller or transferor is a California partnership or a partnership qualified to do business in California (or an LLC that is classified as a partnership for federal and California income tax purposes and is not a single member LLC that is disregarded for federal and California income tax purposes). If this box is checked, the partnership or LLC must still withhold on nonresident partners or members.
8. ☐ The seller or transferor is a tax-exempt entity under California or federal law.
9. ☐ The seller or transferor is an insurance company, individual retirement account, qualified pension/profit sharing plan, or charitable remainder trust.

Part III – Certifications that may partially or fully exempt the sale from withholding:

Real Estate Escrow Person (REEP): See instructions for amounts to withhold.

10. ☐ The transfer qualifies as a simultaneous like-kind exchange within the meaning of IRC Section 1031.
11. ☐ The transfer qualifies as a deferred like-kind exchange within the meaning of IRC Section 1031.
12. ☐ The transfer of this property is an installment sale where the buyer is required to withhold on the principal portion of each installment payment. Copies of Form 593-I, Real Estate Withholding Installment Sale Acknowledgement, and the promissory note are attached.

Seller or Transferor Signature

Under penalties of perjury, I hereby certify that the information provided above is, to the best of my knowledge, true and correct. If conditions change, I will promptly inform the withholding agent. I understand that I must retain this form in my records for 5 years and that the Franchise Tax Board may review relevant escrow documents to ensure withholding compliance. Completing this form does not exempt me from filing a California income or franchise tax return to report this sale.

Seller/Transferor’s Name and Title ____________________________ Seller/Transferor Signature ____________________________ Date ____________

Spouse’s/RDP’s Name ____________________________ Spouse’s/RDP’s Signature ____________________________ Date ____________

Seller or Transferor

If you checked any box in Part II, you are exempt from real estate withholding.

If you checked any box in Part III, you may qualify for a partial or complete withholding exemption.

Except as to an installment sale, if the seller or transferor did not check any box in Part II or Part III of Form 593-C, the withholding will be 3 1/3% (.0333) of the total sales price or the optional gain on sale withholding amount from line 5 of the certified Form 593, Real Estate Withholding Tax Statement. If the seller or transferor does not return the completed Form 593 and Form 593-C by the close of escrow, the withholding will be 3 1/3% of the total sales price, unless the type of transaction is an installment sale. If the transaction is an installment sale, the withholding will be 3 1/3% (.0333) of the first installment payment. If you are withheld upon, the withholding agent should give you one copy of Form 593. Attach a copy to the lower front of your California income tax return and make a copy for your records.
If you are a seller or transferor:

For more information about real estate withholding, get FTB Pub. 1016, Real Estate Tax Board (FTB) as required by California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 451. Withholding is required when California real estate is sold or transferred. Use this booklet for real estate sales or transfers closing in 2014.

Purpose

Registered Domestic Partners (RDP) – For purposes of California income tax, references to a spouse, husband, or wife also refer to a California RDP, unless otherwise specified. When we use the initials RDP they refer to a both a California registered domestic “partner” and a California registered domestic “partnership,” as applicable. For more information on RDPs, get FTB Pub. 737, Tax Information for Registered Domestic Partners.

A Important

Installment Sales – The withholding agent is required to report as an installment sale if the transaction is structured as an installment sale as evidenced by a promissory note. The withholding agent is required to withhold 3 1/3% (.0333) of the first installment payment. Buyers are required to withhold on the principal portion of each subsequent installment payment if the sale of California real property is structured as an installment sale. For more information, get Form 593-I, Real Estate Withholding Installment Sale Acknowledgement.

B Purpose

Use this booklet for real estate sales or transfers closing in 2014. Withholding is required when California real estate is sold or transferred. The amount withheld from the seller or transferor is sent to the Franchise Tax Board (FTB) as required by California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 18662. Withholding is not required if any of the following apply:

- The total sales price is $100,000 or less.
- The property is being foreclosed upon (sold pursuant to a power of sale under a mortgage or deed of trust, sold pursuant to a decree of foreclosure, or by a deed in lieu of foreclosure).
- The transferor is a bank acting as a trustee other than a trustee of a deed of trust.
- The seller or transferor certifies to an exemption. See exemption on Form 593-C, Part II and Part III.

The following are excluded from withholding and completing this form:

- The United States and any of its agencies or instrumentalities.
- A state, a possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or any of its political subdivisions or instrumentalities.

For more information about real estate withholding, get FTB Pub. 1016, Real Estate Withholding Guidelines.

If you are a seller or transferor:

- Use Form 593-C to determine whether you qualify for a full or partial withholding exemption. Keep this form for five years.
- Use Form 593-E to determine your gain or loss on the sale and to calculate the optional gain on sale withholding amount. Keep this form for five years.

C Real Estate Withholding

Real estate withholding is a prepayment of income tax due from the gain on a sale of California real estate. If the amount withheld is more than the income tax liability, we will refund any available difference between the amounts when you file a tax return after the end of the taxable year.

- Although the law requires the buyer to withhold, the buyer can request the Real Estate Escrow Person (REEP) to do the withholding. A REEP is any person involved in closing the real estate transaction which includes any attorney, escrow company, or title company, or any other person who receives and disburses payment for the sale of real property.

Withholding Calculation

The two methods used for calculating the withholding amount are the Total Sales Price Method and the Optional Gain on Sale Election Method. The withholding amount is determined under the Total Sales Price Method by multiplying the selling price 3 1/3% (.0333). The withholding amount is determined under the Optional Gain on Sale Election Method by multiplying the estimated gain by the seller’s or transferor’s maximum tax rate.

D Withholding Agent Instructions

Provide Forms 593, Real Estate Withholding Tax Statement, 593-C, 593-E, and 593-I, with instructions to each seller or transferor as soon as escrow opens. If the sale qualifies for an automatic exemption (the sales price is $100,000 or less, the transferor is a bank acting as a trustee other than a trustee of a deed of trust, or the property is being foreclosed upon), the forms are not required. Make certain you use the correct form and that tax year on the form is the year that escrow closed.

Instruct the seller or transferor to complete and sign Form 593-C and return it to the REEP by the close of escrow. Incomplete or improperly completed forms may not exempt the seller or transferor from withholding. Form 593-C cannot be accepted after the close of escrow.

REEP: If, during the escrow, an individual seller or transferor transfers title to a corporation or partnership and then the corporation or partnership transfers title to the buyer, then there are two transfers for withholding purposes. Accordingly, two separate Forms 593-C should be completed for withholding purposes. The individual must complete one form for the transfer to the corporation or partnership. The corporation or partnership must complete the other form for the transfer to the buyer.

- If the seller or transferor checked any box in Part II, Certifications which fully exempt the sale from withholding, the seller or transferor is exempt from withholding. You are relieved of the real estate withholding requirements if, based on all the information that you have knowledge of, the seller or transferor certifies an exemption from withholding.
- If the seller or transferor checked any box in Part III, Certifications that may partially or fully exempt the sale from withholding, the seller or transferor may qualify for a partial or complete withholding exemption. Read the specific line instructions to determine the amount to withhold and any additional requirements.
- As to Part III, line 12 box only, the withholding agent is required to check the box if the transaction is structured as an installment sale, as evidenced by a promissory note. As to this box only, the signature of the seller or transferor is not required. The withholding agent should also complete Form 593, Real Estate Withholding Tax Statement, Part II, line 3 and check box B, Installment Sale Payment.
- Except as to an installment sale, if the seller or transferor did not check any box in Part II or Part III, the withholding will be 3 1/3% (.0333) of the total sales price, or the optional gain on sale withholding amount from line 5 of the certified Form 593. If the type of transaction is an installment sale, then you are required to withhold 3 1/3 % (.0333) of the first installment payment.
- Except as to an installment sale, if the seller or transferor does not return the completed Form 593 and Form 593-C by the close of escrow, you are required to withhold 3 1/3% (.0333) of the total sales price. If the type of transaction is an installment sale, then you are required to withhold 3 1/3 % (.0333) of the first installment payment.

As the REEP, you are required to withhold and complete Form 593 for each seller or transferor that was withheld upon. Give one copy of Form 593 to the seller or transferor. After the close of the month, the REEP mails one copy of all of the Forms 593 completed during the month, and any Form 593-I and promissory note, to the FTB with the total amount withheld for all transactions that closed during the month. However, the REEP has the option to send in one payment and the related Form 593, and any Form 593-I and promissory note, if applicable, for each escrow. Regardless of whether you send one payment for the month or one payment for each escrow, Forms 593, any required Form 593-I and promissory note, and the withholding payment are due to the FTB by the 20th day of the month following the month you closed escrow. As the REEP remitting the withholding to the FTB, you must include your name and telephone number as a contact for the remittance.

Do not send Form 593-C to the FTB. The REEP retains this form for minimum of five years and must provide it to the FTB upon request.
Instructions for Form 593-C
Real Estate Withholding Certificate

References in these instructions are to the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) as of January 1, 2009, and to the California Revenue and Taxation Code (R&TC).

What’s New

Like-Kind Exchanges – For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2014, California Revenue & Taxation Code (R&TC) Sections 18032 and 24953 require California resident and non resident taxpayers who defer gain on the sale or exchange of California property for out of state replacement property under Internal Revenue Code Section (IRC) 1031 to file an annual information return with the Franchise Tax Board (FTB). Taxpayers are required to file an information return for the taxable year of the exchange and in each subsequent taxable year in which the gain or loss attributable to the exchange has not been recognized. If a taxpayer fails to file the required information return, the FTB can estimate the net income, from any available information including the amount of gain deferred, and propose to assess the amount of tax, interest, and penalties due.

General Information

In general, for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009, California law conforms to the IRC as of January 1, 2009. However, there are continuing differences between California and federal law. When California conforms to federal tax law changes, we do not always adopt all of the changes made at the federal level. For more information, go to ftb.ca.gov and search for conformity. Additional information can be found in FTP Pub. 1001, Supplemental Guidelines to California Adjustments, the instructions for California Schedule CA (540 or 540NR), and the Business Entity tax booklets.

Purpose

Use Form 593-C, Real Estate Withholding Certificate, to determine whether you qualify for a full or partial withholding exemption. Qualifying for an exemption from withholding or being withheld upon does not relieve you of your obligation to file a California income tax return and pay any tax due on the sale of California real estate. The seller or transferor must submit this form before the close of escrow to prevent withholding on the transaction. After escrow has closed, amounts withheld may be recovered only by claiming the withholding as a credit on the appropriate year’s tax return.

Specific Instructions

Private Mail Box (PMB) – Include the PMB in the address field. Write “PMB” first, then the box number. Example: 111 Main Street PMB 123.

Foreign Address – Enter the information in the following order: City, Country, Province/Region, and Postal Code. Follow the country’s practice for entering the postal code. Do not abbreviate the country’s name.

Part I – Seller or Transferor

Enter the name, tax identification number, kind address of the seller or other transferor. If the seller or transferor does not provide a tax identification number, then Form 593-C is void, and withholding is required.

Note: If you choose to provide a copy of Form 593-c to the buyer, delete the seller's or transferor's tax identification number on the buyer's copy. If the seller or transferor is an individual, enter the social security number (SSN) or individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). If the sellers or transferees are spouses or domestic partners, enter the name and SSN or ITIN for each spouse.

Otherwise do not enter information for more than one seller or transferor. Instead, complete a separate Form 593-C for each seller or transferor. If you don't have an SSN because you are a nonresident or a resident alien for federal tax purposes, and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) issue you an ITIN, enter the ITIN in the space provided for the SSN.

An ITIN is a tax processing number issued by the IRS to individuals who have a federal tax filing requirement and do not qualify for an SSN. It is a nine-digit number that always starts with the number 9.

If the seller or transferor is a grantor trust, enter the grantor's individual name and SSN. For tax purposes, the grantor trust is disregarded for tax purposes and the individual seller or transferor must report the sale and claim the withholding on their individual tax return. If the grantor trust was a grantor trust that became irrevocable upon the grantor's death, enter the name of the trust and the trust's federal employer identification number (FEIN). Do not enter the decedent’s or trustee’s name or SSN. If the seller or transferor is a non-grantor trust, enter the name of the trust and the trust’s FEIN. Do not enter trustee information.

If the seller or transferor is a single member limited liability company (SMLLC), enter the name and tax identification number of the single member.

Ownership Percentage

Enter your ownership percentage rounded to two decimal places (e.g. 10.00%). If you have two homes and live in both of them, the main home is the one you lived in most of the time.

Part II – Certifications That Fully Exempt Withholding

Line 1 – Principal Residence

To qualify as your principal residence under IRC Section 121, you (or the decedent) generally must have owned and lived in the property as your main home for at least two years during the five-year period ending on the date of sale. To get federal Information for Military Personnel. You can have only one main home at a time. If you have two homes and live in both of them, the main home is the one you lived in most of the time.

There are exceptions to the two-year rule if the primary reason you are selling the home is for a change in the place of employment, health, or unforeseen circumstances such as death, divorce or termination of registered domestic partnership, or loss of job, etc. For more information about what qualifies as your principal residence or exceptions to the two-year rule, get federal Publication 523, Selling Your Home. To get federal publications, go to irs.gov, or call 800.829.3676.

If only a portion of the property qualifies as your principal residence, a second Form 593-C will need to be completed to certify an exemption on the portion not used as a principal residence.

The allocation method should be the same as the seller or transferor used to determine depreciation.

Line 2 – Property last used as your principal residence

If the property was last used as seller's, transferor's, or decedent's principal residence within the meaning of IRC Section 121 without regard to the two-year time period, no withholding is required. If the last use of the property was as a vacation home, second home, or rental, you do not qualify for the exemption. You must have lived in the property as your main home.

If you have two homes and live in both of them, the main home is the one you lived in most of the time.

Line 3 – Loss or Zero Gain

You have a loss or zero gain for California income tax purposes when the amount realized is less than or equal to your adjustment basis. You must complete Form 593-E, Real estate Withholding - Computation of Estimated Gain or Loss, and have a loss or zero gain on line 16 to certify that the transaction is fully exempt from withholding.

You may not certify that you have a net loss or zero gain just because you do not receive any proceeds from the sale or because you feel you are selling the property for less than what it is worth.
Line 4 – Involuntary Conversion
The property is being involuntarily or compulsorily converted when both of the following apply:
- The California real property is transferred because it was (or threatened to be) seized, destroyed, or condemned within the meaning of IRC Section 1033.
- The seller or transferor intends to acquire property that is similar or related in service or use order to be eligible for nonrecognition of gain for California income tax purposes.
Get federal Publication 544, Sales and Other Dispositions of Assets, for more information about involuntary conversions.

Line 5 – Non-recognition Under IRC Section 351 or 721
The transfer must qualify for nonrecognition treatment under IRC Section 351 (transferring to a corporation controlled by transferor) or IRC Section 721 (contributing to a partnership in exchange for a partnership interest).

Line 6 – Corporation
A corporation has a permanent place of business in this state when it is organized and existing under the laws of this state or it has qualified through the Secretary of State to transact intrastate business.
A corporation not qualified to transact intrastate business (such as a corporation engaged exclusively in interstate commerce) will be considered as having a permanent place of business in this state only if it maintains an office in this state that is permanently staffed by its employees after the sale.
S corporations must withhold on nonresident S corporation shareholders. Get FTB Pub. 1017, Resident and Nonresident Withholding Guidelines, for more information.

Line 7 – Partnership or Limited Liability Company (LLC)
Partnerships and LLCs are required to withhold on nonresident partners and members. For more information, get FTB Pub. 1017.
Withholding is not required if the title to the property transferred is recorded in the name of a California partnership or it is qualified to do business in California.
Withholding is not required if the title to the property transferred is in the name of an LLC, and the LLC meets both of the following:
- It is classified as a partnership for federal and California income tax purposes.
- It is not a SMLLC that is disregarded for federal and California income tax purposes.
If the LLC meets these conditions, the LLC must still withhold on nonresident members. Get FTB Pub. 1017 for more information.
If the SMLLC is classified as a corporation for federal and California income tax purposes, then the seller or transferor is considered a corporation for withholding purposes. Refer to Line 6.
If the LLC is an SMLLC that is disregarded for federal and California income tax purposes, then that single member is considered the seller or transferor and title to the property is considered to be in the name of the single member for withholding purposes.
When completing Form 593-C as the single member of a disregarded LLC, write on the bottom of the form that the information on the form is for the single member of the LLC, so the Real Estate Escrow Person (REEP) will understand why it is different from the recorded title holder.

If the single member is Complete Form 593-C using:
An individual The individual’s information
A corporation The corporation’s information
A partnership The partnership’s information
An LLC The single member’s information

Line 8 – Tax-Exempt Entity
Withholding is not required if the seller or transferor is tax-exempt under either California or federal law (e.g., religious, charitable, educational, not for profit organizations, etc.).

Line 9 – Insurance Company, Individual Retirement Account, Qualified Pension or Profit-Sharing Plan, or Charitable Remainder Trust
Withholding is not required when the seller or transferor is an insurance company, individual retirement account, qualified pension or profit-sharing plan, or a charitable remainder trust.

Part III – Certifications That May Partially or Fully Exempt the Sale From Withholding
Complete Part III only if you did not meet any of the exemptions in Part II.

Line 10 – Simultaneous Exchange
If the California real property is part of a simultaneous like-kind exchange within the meaning of IRC Section 1031, the transfer is exempt from withholding. However, if the seller or transferor receives money or other property (in addition to property that is a part of the like-kind exchange) exceeding $1,500 from the sale, the withholding agent must withhold.

Line 11 – Deferred Exchange
If the California real property is part of a deferred like-kind exchange within the meaning of IRC Section 1031, the sale is exempt from withholding at the time of the initial transfer. However, if the seller or transferor receives money or other property (in addition to property that is a part of the like-kind exchange) exceeding $1,500 from the sale, the withholding agent must withhold.

The intermediary or accommodator must withhold on all cash or cash equivalent (boot) it distributes to the seller or transferor if the amount exceeds $1,500.
If the exchange does not take place or if the exchange does not qualify for nonrecognition treatment, the intermediary or accommodator must withhold 3 1/3% (.0333) of the total sales price.

Line 12 – Installment Sale
The withholding agent is required to report as an installment sale if the transaction is structured as an installment sale as evidenced by a promissory note. The withholding agent is required to withhold 3 1/3% (.0333) of the first installment payment.
The buyer is required to withhold on the principal portion of each subsequent installment payment if the sale is structured as an installment sale.
When the withholding amount on the first installment principal payment is sent to the FTB, the FTB must also receive a completed Form 593-I, Real Estate Withholding Installation Sale Acknowledgement, a completed Form 593, Real Estate Withholding Tax Statement, and a copy of the promissory note.

Seller or Transferor Signature
You must sign this form and return it to your REEP by the close of escrow for it to be valid. Otherwise, the withholding agent must withhold the full 3 1/3% (.0333) of the total sales price or the optional gain on sale withholding amount from line 5 of Form 593 that is certified by the seller or transferor.

Penalty – Any seller or transferor who, for the purpose of avoiding the withholding requirements, knowingly executes a false certificate is liable for a penalty of $1,000 or 20% of the required withholding amount, whichever is greater.

Seller or Transferor Signature

Title and escrow persons and exchange accommodators are not authorized to provide legal or accounting advice for purposes of determining withholding amounts. Transferees are strongly encouraged to consult with a competent tax professional for this purpose.

Under penalties of perjury, I hereby certify that the information provided above is, to the best of my knowledge, true and correct. If conditions change, I will promptly inform the withholding agent. I understand that I must retain this form in my records for 5 years and that the Franchise Tax Board may review relevant escrow documents to ensure withholding compliance. Completing this form does not exempt me from filing a California income or franchise tax return to report this sale.

Form 593-E C2 2013
Withholding Guidelines.

Withholding is required if any of the following apply:

1. The total sales price is $100,000 or less.
2. The property is being foreclosed upon (sold pursuant to a power of sale under a mortgage or deed of trust), sold pursuant to a decree of foreclosure, or by a deed in lieu of foreclosure.
3. The transferor is a bank acting as a trustee other than a trustee of a deed of trust.
4. The seller or transferor certifies an exemption from withholding.

Withholding is not required if any of the following apply:

1. You are a seller or transferor.
2. Use Form 593-C to determine whether you qualify for a full or partial withholding exemption. Keep this form for five years.
3. Use Form 593-E to determine your gain or loss on the sale and to calculate the optional gain on sale withholding amount. Keep this form for five years.

C Real Estate Withholding

Real estate withholding is a prepayment of income tax due from the gain on a sale of California real estate. If the amount withheld is more than the income tax liability, we will refund any available difference between the amounts when you file a tax return after the end of the taxable year.

Although the law requires the buyer to withhold, the buyer can request the Real Estate Escrow Person (REEP) to do the withholding. A REEP is any person involved in closing the real estate transaction which includes any attorney, escrow company, or title company, or any other person who receives and disburses payment for the sale of real property.

D Withholding Agent Instructions

Provide Forms 593, Real Estate Withholding Tax Statement, 593-C, 593-E, and 593-I, with instructions to each seller or transferor as soon as escrow opens. If the sale qualifies for an automatic exemption (the sales price is $100,000 or less, the transferor is a bank acting as a trustee other than a trustee of a deed of trust, or the property is being foreclosed upon), the forms are not required. Make sure you use the correct form and that by year on the form is the year that escrow closed.

Instruct the seller or transferor to complete and sign Form 593-C and return it to the REEP by the close of escrow. Incomplete or improperly completed forms may not exempt the seller or transferor from withholding. Form 593-C cannot be accepted after the close of escrow.

REEP: If, during the escrow, an individual seller or transferor transfers title to a corporation or partnership and then the corporation or partnership transfers title to the buyer, then there are two transfers for withholding purposes. Accordingly, two separate Forms 593-C should be completed for withholding purposes. The individual must complete one form for the transfer to the corporation or partnership. The corporation or partnership must complete the other form for the transfer to the buyer.

If you have knowledge of, the seller or transferor certifies an exemption from withholding.

If the seller or transferor checked any box in Part II, Certifications which fully exempt the sale from withholding, the seller or transferor is exempt from withholding. You are relieved of the real estate withholding requirements if, based on all the information that you have knowledge of, the seller or transferor certifies an exemption from withholding.

If the seller or transferor checked any box in Part III, Certifications that may partially or fully exempt the sale from withholding, the seller or transferor may qualify for a partial or complete withholding exemption. Read the specific line instructions to determine the amount to withhold and any additional requirements.

As to Part II, line 12 box only, the withholding agent is required to check the box if the transaction is structured as an installment sale, as evidenced by a promissory note. As to this box only, the signature of the seller or transferor is not required. The withholding agent should also complete Form 593, Real Estate Withholding Tax Statement, Part III, line 3 and check box B, Installment Sale Payment.

Except as to an installment sale, if the seller or transferor did not check any box in Part II or Part III, the withholding will be 3 1/3% (.0333) of the total sales price, or the optional gain on sale withholding amount from line 5 of the certified Form 593. If the type of transaction is an installment sale, then you are required to withhold 3 1/3 % (.0333) of the first installment payment.

Except as to an installment sale, if the seller or transferor does not return the completed Form 593 and Form 593-C by the close of escrow, you are required to withhold 3 1/3 % (.0333) of the total sales price. If the type of transaction is an installment sale, then you are required to withhold 3 1/3 % (.0333) of the first installment payment.

As the REEP, you are required to withhold and complete Form 593 for each seller or transferor that was withheld upon. Give one copy of Form 593 to the seller or transferor. After the close of the month, the REEP mails one copy of all of the Forms 593 completed during the month, and any Form 593-I and promissory note, to the FTB with the total amount withheld for all transactions that closed during the month. However, the REEP has the option to send in one payment and the related Form 593, and any Form 593-I and promissory note, if applicable, for each escrow.

Regardless of whether you send one payment for the month or one payment for each escrow, Forms 593, any required Form 593-I and promissory note, and the withholding payment are due to the FTB by the 20th day of the month following the month you closed escrow. As the REEP remitting the withholding to the FTB, you must include your name and telephone number as a contact for the remittance.

Do not send Form 593-C to the FTB. The REEP retains this form for minimum of five years and must provide it to the FTB upon request.
Instructions for Form 593-E
Real Estate Withholding – Computation of Estimated Gain or Loss

General Information
In general, for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010, California law conforms to the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) as of January 1, 2009. However, there are continuing differences between California and federal law. When California conforms to federal tax law changes, we do not always adopt all of the changes made at the federal level. For more information, go to ftb.ca.gov and search for conformity. Additional information can be found in FTB Pub. 1001, Supplemental Guidelines to California Adjustments, the instructions for California Schedule CA ($540 or 540NR), and the Business Entity tax booklets.

Purpose
Use Form 593-E, Real Estate Withholding – Computation of Estimated Gain or Loss, to estimate the amount of your gain or loss for withholding purposes and to calculate an optional gain on sale withholding amount. This form is used for sales closing in 2014.

The seller or transferor completes this form. Title and real estate escrow persons (REEP) and exchange accommodators are not authorized to provide legal or accounting advice for purposes of determining withholding amounts. Sellers or transferors are strongly encouraged to consult with a tax professional for this purpose.

Optional Gain on Sale Withholding Amount is the withholding amount calculated when the optional gain on sale election has been made by the seller or transferor, which includes providing a signature under penalty of perjury. The seller or transferor makes the election and provides the signature on Form 593-E. The withholding amount I calculated by multiplying the seller’s or transferor’s applicable tax rate by the estimated gain determined on Form 593-E.

You may use estimates when you complete this form, but the estimates must not result in the calculation of loss when you actually have gain. Any seller or transferor who, for the purpose of avoiding the withholding requirements, knowingly executes a false certificate is liable for a penalty of $1000 or 20% of the required withholding amount, whichever is greater.

This form is signed under penalty of perjury. The seller or transferor must keep this form for 5 years and provide it to the Franchise Tax Board (FTB) upon request. However, the seller or transferor is not required to provide this form to the withholding agent or buyer.

Specific Instructions
Private Mail Box (PMB) – Include the PMB in the address field. Write “PMB” first, then the box number. Example: 111 Main Street PMB 123.

Foreign Address – Enter the information in the following order: City, Country, Province/Region, and Postal Code. Follow the country’s practice for entering the postal code. Do not abbreviate the country’s name.

Part I – Seller or Transferor
Enter the name, tax identification number, and address of the seller or other transferor.

If the seller or transferor is an individual, enter the social security number (SSN) or individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). If the seller or transferors are spouses/registered domestic partners (RDPs) and plan to transferors are spouses/registered domestic partners (RDPs) and plan to file a joint return, enter the name and SSN or ITIN for each spouse/RDP.

Otherwise, do not enter information for more than one seller or transferor.

Part II – Computation
Line 1 – Selling Price
The selling price is the total amount you will receive for your property. It includes money, as well as, all notes, mortgages, or other debts assumed by the buyer as part of the sale, plus the fair market value of any other property or any services you receive.

Line 2 – Selling Expenses
Selling expenses include commissions, advertising fees, legal fees, and loan charges that will be paid by the seller or transferor, such as loan placement fees or points.

Line 3 – Amount Realized
The amount realized is the selling price minus the selling expenses.

Line 4 – Purchase Price
If you acquired this property by purchase, enter your purchase price. Your purchase price includes the down payment and any debt you incurred; such as a first or second mortgage or promissory notes you gave the seller or transferor in payment for the property. If you acquired the property by gift, inheritance, exchange, or any way other than purchase, see How to Figure Your Basis.

Line 5 – Seller or Transferor-Paid Points
Points are charges paid to obtain a loan. They may also be called loan origination fees, maximum loan charges, loan discount, or discount points. If the seller or transferor paid points for you when you acquired the property, enter the amount paid by the seller or transferor on your behalf on line 5, unless you already subtracted this item to arrive at the amount for line 4.

Line 6 – Depreciation
Enter the amount of depreciation you deducted, or could have deducted, on your California income tax return for business or investment use of the property under the method of depreciation you chose. If you took less depreciation on your tax return that you could have under the method chosen, you must enter the amount you could have taken under that method. If you did not take a depreciation deduction, enter the full amount of depreciation you could have taken. Get federal Publication 946, How to Depreciate Property, for more information.

If you do not know how much depreciation you deducted or were allowed, you can make an estimate of the amount of depreciation (for withholding purposes only). To estimate the depreciation, divide the purchase price plus the cost of additions and improvements by 27.5 and multiply that by the number of years you used the property for business use (up to 27.5 years).

Example: Mary bought a house 20 years ago for $150,000 and has used it as a rental property for the last 18 years. Prior to renting the house, she added a pool which cost her $25,000. Mary’s depreciation is estimated as follows:

Cost $150,000
Plus additions 25,000
Total 175,000
Divided by 27.5= 6,364
Multiply by 18 years= $114,552

Mary’s estimated depreciation to enter on line 6 is $114,552.

Line 7 – Other Decreases to Basis
Include any other amounts that decrease your basis, such as:

• Casually or theft loss deductions and insurance reimbursements.
• Energy credits claimed for the cost of energy improvements added to your basis.
• Payments received for granting an easement or right-of-way.

Line 10 – Additions and Improvements
These add to the value of your property, prolong its useful life, or adapt it to new uses. Examples include room additions, landscaping, new roof, insulation, new furnace or air conditioner, remodeling, etc. The cost of repairs may not be included unless they are part of an extensive remodeling or restoration project. Do not include any additions or improvements on line 10 that were included on line 4.

Line 11 – Other Increases to Basis
Include the amounts paid for any other items that increase the basis of the property, such as:

• Settlement fees and closing costs you incurred when you bought the property.
• The amount you paid for special assessments for items such as water connections, paving roads, and building ditches.
• The cost of restoring damaged property from a casualty loss, or cost of extending utility service lines to the property.

Line 14 – Passive Activity Losses
You may only use suspended passive activity losses that directly relate to the property sold. Other losses such as net operating losses, capital loss carry-forwards, stock losses, and passive activity losses from other properties cannot be used.
How to Figure Your Basis

The cost or purchase price of property is usually its basis for figuring gain or loss from its sale or other disposition. However, if you acquired the property by gift, inheritance, exchange, or in some way other than purchase, you must use a basis other than its cost. The following instructions only reflect the general rules. Exceptions may apply. Get federal Publication 551, Basis of Assets, for more information. Sellers or transferors are strongly encouraged to consult with a tax professional for this purpose.

<td>Property was received as a gift</td>
<td>Usually, your basis is the donor’s adjusted basis at the time of the gift. Enter the donor’s adjusted basis on line 4. Then complete the rest of the form (except line 5) with your information after you received the property. If the fair market value (FMV) of the property at the time of the gift was less than the donor’s adjusted basis, get federal Publication 551 to determine your basis.</td>
